

[DOWNLOAD] Models of Balance of Payments Constrained Growth: History, Theory and Empirical Evidence

Models of Balance of Payments Constrained Growth: History, Theory and Empirical Evidence

From Palgrave Macmillan

**Download PDF / ePub / DOC / audiobook / ebooks*

Download

Read Online

#4279763 in eBooks 2012-10-15 2012-10-15 File Name: B009M9BQNK | File size: 23.Mb

From Palgrave Macmillan : Models of Balance of Payments Constrained Growth: History, Theory and Empirical Evidence before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Models of Balance of Payments Constrained Growth: History, Theory and Empirical Evidence:

This book extends Thirlwall's model and adapts its implications to the current problems facing developed and emerging economies. In this context, this book combines theoretical models and empirical applications, unveiling new results and highlighting the importance of the balance of payments as a constraint to growth.

About the Author ELIAS SOUKIAZIS is Assistant Professor in the Faculty of Economics of the University of Coimbra, Portugal. He holds a PhD in Economics (Kent University at Canterbury, UK) and MSc in Economics (Birkbeck College, University of London, UK) and a BSc in Economics (University of Macedonia, Greece). His interests lie in applied research in the fields of growth economics, international and European economics, regional economics, health economics, human capital and, in general macroeconomic policy. He has published in national and international journals and served as reviewer in various journals. He is a member of the International Network for Economic Research (INFER) and European Economics and Finance Society (EFFS) board and member of the research centre Group for Monetary and Financial Studies (GEMF). PEDRO A. CERQUERIA is Assistant Professor in the Faculty of Economics at the University of Coimbra, Portugal. He holds a PhD in Economics (European University Institute, Florence, Italy), an MSc in Monetary and Financial Economics (ISEG, Technical University of Lisbon, Portugal) and a BSc (Hons) in Economics (University of Coimbra, Portugal). His research interest lies in the economics of European Integration, Business Cycles, Growth and Open Macroeconomics. He has published and refereed internationally in these fields and is also a member of the GEMF research centre.